1. Bless - ed are they that per - fect are, and pure in mind and heart,
2. Doubt - less such men go not a - stray, nor do no wick - ed thing:
3. Oh, would to God it might thee please, my ways so to ad - dress:

7

Whose lives and con - ver - sa - ti - on, from God's laws nev - er start. Bles - which stead - fast - ly walk in his paths with - out a - ny wan - d'ring. It
That I might both in heart and voice, and laws keep and con - fess. So sed are they that give them - selves his stat - utes to ob - serve, is thy will and com - mand - ment, that with at - ten - tive heed should no shame my life at - tain, while I thus set my eyes:

13

Seek - ing the Lord with all their heart, and nev - er from him swerve.
Thy no - ble and di - vine pre - cepts we learn and keep in - deed.
And bend my mind al - ways to muse on thy sac - red de - crees.
