

Psalm 135

4. ⁷He from the earth the clouds doth bring,
the lightning and the rain
He maketh eke: and winds to come,
from where they did remain.
⁸He smote the firstborn of each thing,
in Egypt that took rest:
He spared there no living thing,
the man nor yet the beast.
5. ⁹O Egypt, he in midst of thee,
hath made his wonders fall:
On Pharaoh thy cruel king,
and on his servants all ¹⁰He sundry people brought to nought,
destroying them outright:
And many kings he slew also,
that were of power and might.
6. ¹¹As Sihon, (that sometime was lord)
and king of the Amorites
And Og, the king of Bashan land,
with all the Canaanites ¹²And gave their land to Israel,
an heritage we see:
To Israel, his chosen folk
their heritage to be.
7. ¹³Thy name, O Lord, shall still endure,
and thy memorial:
Throughout all generations
that are or ever shall.
¹⁴The Lord will surely judge aright,
and his people all in deed:
And to his servants favour show,
will he, in time of need.
8. ¹⁵The idols of the heathen all
throughout their coasts and lands:
Of silver and of gold they be,
the works even of men's hands.
¹⁶For mouths they have, but speak no whit
and eyes, but may not see:
¹⁷So have they ears, that nothing hear,
and breathless wholly be.
9. ¹⁸Wherefore all they are like to them
that so do set them forth:
And likewise those that trust in them
or think they be ought worth.
¹⁹O all ye house of Israel,
see that ye praise the Lord:
And ye that be of Aaron's house,
Praise him with one accord.
10. ²⁰And ye that be of Levi's house
praise ye likewise the Lord:
And all that stand in awe of him,
praise him with one accord.
²¹And out of Zion, sound his praise,
the praise of God the Lord:
Which dwelleth in Jerusalem,
praise him with one accord.
