Psalm 118

4. In God to trust it is far better,
   Than to vain man to trust and stand.
   To trust in God (I say) is surer,
   Than princes, Lords of sea and land.
   All nations have me round compassed,
   With one consent: yet in God's name
   By me they shall soon be destroyed,
   And put to flight, rebuke, and shame.

5. They have me round about enclosed,
   Yea, and shoot up with one accord:
   Yet they by me, shall be destroyed,
   Even in the name of God the Lord.
   Like bees they came about me swarming,
   But were as fire of thorns put out:
   For in God's name the ever living,
   I shall confound them all, no doubt.

6. Thou hast (O cruel adversary)
   Thrust sore at me, with main and might,
   To cause me fall: but lo, contrary,
   For God hath hope me in my right.
   My strength and force is God the most high,
   Yea, he my song is pleassance:
   For he hath been in all adversity
   Mine helper and deliverance.

7. The voice of joy and freedom, shall be
   Within the just man's dwelling place:
   Saying, behold, right valiantly
   The Lord's right hand hath brought to pass.
   The hand most strong of the almighty
   Exalted is now presently:
   Of God the Lord, the right hand sturdy:
   Hath done (say they) triumphantly.

8. Away, away, enviers, each one,
   For yet, death's cup shall I not prove:
   But shall still live, that I may expone
   And show abroad, God's works above.
   The Lord my God, hath me chastised,
   And that right sore (I must confess:)
   But of his goodness, not delivered
   Me unto death, in that distress.

9. Open therefore to me, the gates fair,
   Which are the gates of righteousness:
   That through the same, I may have repair,
   And praise the Lord, his holiness.
   This is God's gate famous and worthy,
   Whereat the righteous enter shall.
   I will thee praise, Lord, which hast heard me
   And my deliverance been withal.

10. The stone which wholly was refused,
    And of the builders cast away:
    The same laid, is now placed,
    As of the corner chief and stay.
    Which thing is done, by th'only working
    Of God, the Lord most glorious:
    And as a wonder is appearing,
    Unto our sights most marvellous.

11. This is (of truth) the day most happy
    Which God hath made of his goodness:
    Let us therein make mirth and joy,
    And sing to God with great gladness.
    O Lord, I now beseech and pray thee,
    Save thou {the king an him maintain}
    Give him good luck, and prosperous to be,
    O Lord, I yet require again.

12. Who in the name of God most holy,
    Doth come, he blessed be alway:
    We wish also, ye may be happy
    Which in God's house are night and day.
    The Lord our God, he is most mighty,
    And hath us given light at last:
    Unto the horns of th'altar holy,
    Your sacrifice now bind full fast.

13. Thou art the God in whom I glory,
    To thee will I give praise therefore:
    Even thou, my God art, therefore will I
    Laude and exalt thee evermore.
    Give to the Lord all praise and honour
    For gracious is he, and kind:
    Yea more, his mercy and great favour doth endure, world without end.
