Psalm 82
"Amid the crowd with men of might"

Text by John Hopkins Harmonised by David Peebles

1. Amid the crowd with men of might, the Lord himself did stand: To
2. Where-as of due ye should defend the fatherless and weak: And
3. But nothing will they know or learn, in vain to them I talk: They plead the case of truth and right, with judges of the land. How when the poor man doth contend, in judgment justly speak. If will not see or ought discern, but still in darkness walk. For long, said he, will you proceed, false judgment to award? And ye be wise, defend the cause of poor men in their right: And lo, ev'n now the time is come, that all things fall to naught: And have respect for love of mead, the wicked to regard? rid the need-y from the claws of tyrants' force and might.

like-wise laws both all and some, for gain are sold and bought.
